

Molecules people actually make are NOT one step from the catalogue so requiring depth is a calibration to known chemistry, not a handicap

